Central Search Tutorial

Chambers Library now has a new, single-search option available for finding articles, books, media and more!

Go to the library's home page at <http://library.uco.edu> and enter keywords into the Central Search box. The default is a quick search through the library's catalog and most of its journals.

Availability of an item is indicated immediately below the brief record.

Search results will include materials available in or through Chambers Library, as well as some materials that are available only through Interlibrary Loan.

Menu options at left will help focus the search and reveal which databases were included in the search.

Central Search includes many of Chambers Library's databases, as well as the catalog of library-owned materials. But additional databases are available for many subjects.

To see the entire list, click on "Articles/Databases" in the menu bar on the library's home page. This page lists all of the databases to which the library subscribes. Contact the Reference librarians at Chambers Library or see the tutorials on the library's website for further instruction.
