

Finding Articles in EconLit

From the library's home screen, click on Articles/Databases in the menu bar and then select "E" in the alphabet bar.

EconLit indexes articles and other materials pertinent to urban, regional, national and international economics published since 1969. Abstracts are provided for materials published after 1987 and some full-text is available through links to other EBSCOHost databases.

Click the title, and the familiar EBSCOHost interface will open with the database loaded.

Enter a keyword search into the search box--e.g., "exchange rate* and international investment* and (China or Asia)--and choose the Boolean/Phrase search option. Select limiters below, or use the options available in the results screen to filter for full-text availability or limit by date, type of materials, subject or publication.

View complete records, including abstracts when available, by clicking individual titles. Or add items to a folder to review later. Create an account in EBSCOHost to save searches and folder contents.

If results are too limited, remove the full-text filter and order materials through Interlibrary Loan.

View additional tutorials or contact the librarians at the Reference desk for additional help.